Off-Campus Housing Study Underway

By David E. Marshall

Representatives of local health and housing agencies have begun reviewing the off-campus housing situation in Carbondale.

Their meeting Tuesday was the first of a series of sessions planned to explore regulations and laws which can be used to improve the housing situation and offer protection for renters as well as landlords.

City, county, university officials, and student government representatives attended and agreed that a board of appeals is needed to hear complaints.

Thomas Easterly, Carbondale building and zoning administrator, said the meeting was called at his request to acquaint the representatives and begin a joint study of the problems and the limitations of the individual agencies involved.

Easterly said the home owners were not represented at this first meeting but are invited to attend the next meeting which is scheduled for 10 a.m. Nov. 7.

Larry Mandel, student housing commissioner, said he will present his program for improving off-campus housing at the next meeting. Mandel said he has had several meetings with the SIU housing officials and has several more scheduled.

Mandel said he also would like as many reports from students as possible to incorporate into the outline he will present at the November meeting.

Earlier this week Dennis Balgemann, SIU off-campus housing coordinator, announced a "new attitude of cooperation" with the student government which has led to the recent meetings.

Mandel said mutual interest lies in protecting both students and landlords by using all existing regulations and ordinances.

Easterly said that because there are so many restraints to prevent quick action and arbitrary decisions, many do not understand why they do not get immediate response when they contact one of the regulatory agencies to report a problem.

"Hopefully," he said, "through these meetings we will establish a common framework and discover just exactly what are the powers and prerogatives which limit each individual agency's action."

At the second meeting representatives are being asked to bring lists of the regulations and forms they use, he said.

By comparison of these rules the range of jurisdiction and avenues of action of the groups are expected to be made clear.

Attending Tuesday's meeting were: Les Miller of the Jackson County Health Dept., four representatives of SIU's Office of Student Affairs, and Mrs. William Westberg, chairman of the codes and ordinance sub-committee of the Carbondale Citizens Advisory Committee.

Mandel said at one of the later meetings a representative of the state real estate board will be invited to sit in.

HOMEcoming GETS HOT—This was the scene, shown in two exposures, at the bonfire Wednesday night as the Homecoming weekend was kicked off.

Fight Against Tulsa Pledged at Bonfire

Penny Coughlin and Dick Emory were named Miss and Mr. Freshman Thursday night at the bonfire south of the Arena parking lot.

The two then lit the bonfire built by Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity.

Addressing the group assembled at the homecoming kick-off event, Coach Dick Towers said he believes Tulsa to be one of the top 10 ball teams in the country and that "We're going to prove to you people that we have got a fine ball club."

"You're not going to be embarrassed by this ball club come Saturday afternoon," Towers added.

Towers introduced the Saluki team and coaching staff.

Ron Schaefer and Dave Fabian of Sigma Pi social fraternity awarded certificates to all the offensive and defensive players chosen each week. Chosen by the coaching staff, the players will receive a dinner from a Murphysboro restaurant.

Certificates were awarded to Carl Mauck, Bob Hudspeth, Ted Schoch, Charles Pemberton, Bob Roberts, Isaac Brigham, Ken Doyan, Hill Williams, Doug Hollinger, Bill Patrick and John Ference.

Bob Roberts, linebacker said "We don't have the best record, as everybody knows, but I can't wait until Saturday and tackling Tulsa." "We're going out for one thing and that's to win," said Isaac Brigham, tackle.

John Ference said, "I think we're going to have a real surprise for Tulsa."

The five queen candidates and the two chosen attendants were announced by Dave Fabian, master of ceremonies.

The queen will be crowned at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Shryock Auditorium.

Center Hours Extension Reported

By Charles Springer

New closing hours are expected to go into effect soon for the University Center, the Home Economics building and, in some instances, women's dormitories according to a report read last night at the Student Senate.

The University Center and most of its facilities will remain open nightly until 1 a.m., the Home Economics building until midnight; and, during exam weeks only, the women's dorms will remain open until 2 a.m.

Filing the report was Student Senator Bard Grosse who emphasized that the later hours for both the Home Economics building and women's dormitories were still pending. He said approval was expected soon.

Grosse said he hoped the two-hour extension of time for the University Center would become effective Monday. He indicated that the television room, the small and large cafeterias and the lounges would be available during the later hours. No decision has been reached concerning recreational facilities.

The extension of UC hours will be on a one month trial basis after which an evaluation would be conducted.

Grosse said a discussion with officials at the Home

Economics building led to the conclusion that there would be no problem in keeping the facility open until midnight.

He also said that a preliminary check with the Dean of Students Wilbur Moulton indicated that approval would be granted for the two o'clock hours for women during the week prior to, and during exams.

The report also included an announcement made earlier concerning an extension of Morris Library hours until midnight Sunday through Thursday. It also noted that the library officials will be asked to extend hours until 2 a.m. for a two week period prior to and during exams.

Also hoped for is an hour-and-a-half extension of reserve room facilities allowing students to check reserve books until 11 p.m.

In other action, the Senate gave its endorsement to a "Student Bitch-In" to be held Monday, Nov. 19 at Browne Auditorium. The session has been scheduled in order to get student opinions, their complaints, record them and bring the pertinent ones to the floor of the Student Senate. Student Senators Gary Krischer and John Foote commented on a story appearing in Friday's Daily Egyptian concerning an investigation of Free School. They disapproved.

Gus says he is just now putting himself back together after Fall Quarter vivisectioning.

Students Organizing Against TP Food Service

The student who wrote a three-page mimeographed open letter complaining about the food service at Lentz Hall is forming a committee of Thompson Point residents to assist him in his campaign for change.

Robert L. Richardson, a junior majoring in psychology, said in his letter that the students are "greatly dissatisfied with the food service of Lentz Hall."

He proposed an investigation into the problems of the Thompson Point food service and plans now to use his new committee for this purpose. Elwyn Zimmerman, assistant dean of students and area director of Thompson Point, said that he talked with Richardson about the situation.

"I assured Mr. Richardson that we would look into the problem," Zimmerman said. "At the moment we are seeking four new people to fill positions on the Lentz Hall cafeteria staff."

Zimmerman and Miss Lois Brumitt, assistant food service manager at Lentz Hall, both said earlier that the problems mentioned in Richardson's letter were caused by a shortage of student workers.

Richardson said he found the Lentz Hall officials very cooperative about the matter, but that some minor problems that could be corrected easily have not yet been corrected.

"My committee and I have taken Polaroid pictures of student workers at Lentz Hall who are doing nothing," Richardson said. "Lentz might not have a worker shortage if those who are working now would actually do their jobs."

Richardson said that he would probably ask the vice presidents of all the residence halls at Thompson Point to be on his food committee.

Students Needed to Fill Card Section at Stadium

Students are needed to fill SIU's card section at the Homecoming football game Saturday.

Tony Giannelli, coordinator of student activities, said 660 students are being sought to sit in Section 20 on the 50-yard line year the student admissions area.

Interested students and those who have served in the section in the past are asked to report to McAndrew Stadium at 12:30 p.m.

The card section spells out SIU slogans and cheers at the games. It is sponsored jointly by Student Government, Student Activities Center and Sigma Pi Fraternity and is directed by Dave Fabian.

Protesting Non-Students

Over 250 "student" protestors were arrested recently at the University of California, Berkeley. After investigation, it was found that only 11 of those arrested were actually students, and three "might be." A similar situation exists at SIU, although on a much smaller scale at the moment. The situation needs correcting before it gets out of hand.

Student Body Vice President Richard Karr estimates that one out of every 10 protestors on this campus is not enrolled as a student in the University. He said that he spoke to two non-students who were in the group picketing a military service recruiting station in the University Center recently.

It is difficult to determine whether or not these non-students are the perpetrators of such demonstrations on campus, but it is reasonable to assume that their influence on fee-paying and tuition-paying students is significant.

In a state institution such as SIU, the reaction of the students on national, international and local issues is followed closely by tax-paying citizens, and understandably so. The reactions of student protestors are taken many times to be the general reaction of the entire student body.

The administration, especially, is sensitive to students protesting administrative and University policies. Many times administrative action follows some kind of student protest. However, if some of these "students" are not really students at all, why should the University officials listen to their complaints, which are supposed to reflect student opinion? Why should these "students" be allowed to protest on the grounds of a state institution where their opinions will reflect student sentiment to the taxpayers and legislators who support the institution?

SIU may or may not become another Berkeley. But the potential is present. The Campus Senate must act now. Action may be in the form of a resolution condemning non-student protestors, or it may be in the form of a legislative investigation. Whatever the action, it must be taken now.

Margaret Perez

Constructive Lawbreaking

Possibly the Southern Illinois Peace Committee will break some laws in its protests of our stand in Vietnam.

As a matter of fact, this is a distinct possibility and the committee is to be congratulated for it.

Everything that can be said about man's duty to break the law, if that law conflicts with his moral beliefs, has already been said.

And what is going on in Vietnam, whatever it is, conflicts with a lot of the moral, ethical and legal beliefs of a great many people.

In the 1930's the Bonus Army of World War I veterans marched on Washington demanding what they said was promised to them.

They too were beaten off the capitol grounds. But then as now the action was an effective indication of the times in which we live.

Those who marched in Washington voiced their opinions in this way because the other channels are closed and closed tight. The Presidential election will probably offer no alternatives. And in this type of executive war the recourse to congress, promised by the founding fathers, has also been eliminated.

Many went to jail last weekend. And it can be hoped that their example will be an encouragement to the rest of us.

Tim Ayers

Letters Welcome

The Daily Egyptian solicits letters to the editor. Any subject may be discussed. However, letters should be brief; if possible, they should be limited to one and a half typewritten pages, double spaced.

All letters must be signed, including writer's address, and, if possible, telephone number. The editors reserve the right to apply routine editing procedures to make the contributions conform to the law, decency and space.

placard spells out her card and that of protestors at right, descending steps of Lincoln Memorial.

Letters to the Editor:

Our Duty-- Stay Informed

To the Editor:

Tom Gaylo's article which appeared on the editorial page of the Egyptian on Thursday left me flabbergasted. Mr. Gaylo used his article to deflate the efforts of the 175 SIU students who are leaving for the anti-Vietnam march on Washington, D.C.

He maintained that we, as citizens, don't know what is going on behind the scenes in the administration and, therefore, can't make a valid judgement on the aims or conduct of the war. He went on to assert, "It is very possible that the Pentagon might have the foresight to see why victory in Vietnam is necessary if we are to preserve our freedom, whereas, we, sometimes confused citizens do not have this extra-sensory perception."

An extension of Mr. Gaylo's philosophy leads to some interesting questions. Since we can't fully understand the policies and actions of the administration why should the citizens be concerned? Why should we read the front page of the newspaper? Let our leaders and the Pentagon make the decisions for us. They are more qualified.

I can't help but think of the attempts of Nazi Germany to exterminate the Jewish people of Europe. If we were placed in that situation would we simply say, "Obviously, the government knows the best path of action as we don't have adequate information to make value judgements." The Nuremberg Trials pointed out what we already knew: we can't stand idly by and not make our opinions known. If we don't, we become less of a human being.

Mr. Gaylo's glorification of apathy is appalling. The government must be subject to the will and opinions of the citizens, no matter how misguided the citizens may be. It is for that reason, that it is the duty of the government to keep the people informed of its actions and intentions. Monitoring the news or creating a news gap has no place in a democracy.

The action of the anti-Vietnam peace marchers is laudatory no matter how well or how poorly informed they may be, though I suspect the former. They have taken an interest in the aims of their government and are making their opinions known by a mass meeting and picket.

The march and picket this weekend is commendable but the plan to block the doorways and halls of the Pentagon is a stain on their objective. The right to express an opinion (i.e. picket) should not violate the right of the Pentagon workers to move freely in and out of their offices. Some may contend that the government already knows the opinion of the growing flock of doves. Congress was unresponsive to a new civil rights bill until the March on Washington in the summer of 1963.

To keep our administration responsive, we all have a duty to be well informed and make our ideas known. To leave policy decisions to someone else makes a sham of a government "of the people, by the people, and for the people."

Leland E. Holbrook, Jr.

No Man Superior to Another

To the Editor:

Mr. Gaylo, yours is certainly not one of the more vehement pro-war letters to appear in the Egyptian, but to many of us it must be one of the most important and frightening. You speak of our elected leaders and the Pentagon as possibly having "the foresight to see why victory in Vietnam is necessary." And in essence you are saying that because of this we should have faith in them and their decisions. I say that they are only human and therefore are subject to the fallacies and short-sightedness as the rest of us no matter how many behind the scenes maneuverings and secret files they may have access to.

One thing we must not forget is that in the final analysis the voters and public opinion will decide the fate of this war as has always been done. It is true that our very powerful government can promote and control public opinion, but each voter in his heart of hearts, if he really wants this war to end, can vote against President Johnson's policies in 1968.

This is a fact that every citizen knows no matter what his access to any of the "vital information" you talk about. I hope that I am not just being naive, but that the voters will bear me out in this coming election.

I would like to sum up my feelings about any acquiescence to this war in a statement made by Reverend A.J. Muste: "The idea of the freedom and dignity of the human being, of his responsibility to God or his fellows or to history, is an empty mockery if precisely in such matters each individual is not free to think and to decide for himself, and free to obey or disobey orders of so-called superiors. In the presence of these ultimate issues, no man is superior to another."

Jill Armillas

Alas, Progress

To the Editor:

Perhaps there is more progress at SIU than some realize. A case in point is the matter of library hours, much discussed of late.

Inside the covers of some of the very old volumes in Morris Library are labels listing "Southern Illinois Normal University rules regulating the use of the Library, books and periodicals." Among them are the following:

"The library is open during the 4th and 6th hours of Monday and Thursday, and after school on Wednesday.

"No student is allowed to open case or take a book from the shelves.

"Permits to read in the library are to be given by the librarian."

"The particular volume from which the above was taken is an 1887 publication.

Bob Hays

Attacking Bugs

To the Editor:

The bug problem in Carbondale does not seem to be attacked as well as it might be. The exterminators who frequently drive around our campus in the evenings spraying are a menace and highly inefficient.

A better procedure for controlling bugs would be to attack them where they virtually hang out. They seem to congregate around bright lights in the times of darkness and spraying this congregation at its source would eliminate much of the problem.

As a layman I can only suggest this as an alternative to bug control. Perhaps if Carbondale won't take my suggestion to heart I could encourage the student body to purchase bug spray and designate an all-out attack on these flying monsters.

Creating the New Soviet Man

By Jim Blair

"The 5th anniversary of the Great October Revolution will be celebrated in the Soviet Union as few events ever have been in the past."

The Russians have been making extensive preparations for the anniversary for an entire year, said George S. Counts, distinguished visiting professor at SIU.

"The Russians' landing of a spacecraft on Venus is probably related to the anniversary and between now and Nov. 7 anything can happen."

The Russians, no doubt, will be citing the many advancements they have made since Lenin and his small party of Bolsheviks overthrew the Provisional Government in 1917.

Few Americans are more aware of the extent of these advancements than Counts.

In 1929, during the first year of Stalin's first Five-Year-Plan, Counts had the unusual opportunity to observe the backwardness of the Soviet Union using his own car for transportation.

"Most people choose to see Moscow and the large cities of Russia. Instead, I chose to see how the peasant villagers lived."

From early July to late October of 1929, Counts drove his car 6,000 miles through the land west of the Urals. Most of the time he traveled alone. For the most part he lived with peasants in their villages.

Counts said the country at this time was extremely backward and many of the peasants had contempt for the party in power.

Counts has written nine books about the Soviet Union. His book "The Challenge of Soviet Education" received the A.L.A. Liberty Justice Books Award as the "most distinguished book of 1957."

An upcoming issue of "School and Society," a leading educational journal will feature an article by Counts entitled "The Creation of the New Soviet Man." In the article Counts traces the phenomenal evolution of the Soviet educational system from its depraved state right after the Revolution to the present.

In the article Dr. Counts writes, "The development of organized education in the Soviet Union is probably without precedent in the whole history of mankind. The party has endeavored from the early twenties to marshal all the forces of organized education, including all agencies for the molding and the informing of the minds of both young and old, to achieve its purposes and advance toward its distant apocalyptic goal of Communism."

According to Counts the title of the article is especially significant.

"According to Soviet ideology, science and technology are the means. The creation of the 'New Soviet Man' is the end. They are striving to create a new type of man superior to any other ever to exist on this planet."

"By emphasizing what they call the communist morality, they believe they can create the finest people of all ages have dreamed."

The communist morality is based on "The Ethical Code of the Builder of Communism" which consists of 12 moral principles that the people of the Soviet Union are to follow. These principles outline the image of the "New Soviet Man."

On Nov. 7 the Soviet Union will celebrate 50 years of what it claims to be successful strides towards this end.

Fighting Fire

By Nancy Baker

Smokey the Bear will receive help from SIU when the University Fire Station begins operation early next year.

Located on US 51 adjacent to the coal storage yard at the steam generating plant, the 40x50 foot station will be capable of housing two trucks.

Due to additions and changes, the facility will exceed the $59,419 bid, according to Alf O. Skaret, University architect.

Operating expenses for a year are calculated between $45,000 and $50,000, said City Manager William Norman.

The station is sponsored by the Fire Protection Bill passed by the General Assembly.

The bill provides a formulated system of adding funds to the school's fire prevention purposes, according to William Hudgens, director of Auxiliary Services Enterprises.

University funds will be worked into the city's budget and the SIU facility will be operated and manned by Carbondale city firemen, he said.

Hudgens said, "As many as six men will be used off and on for 24-hours, seven day a week service."

The $38,000 LaFrance pumper purchased with University funds will be housed at the SIU facility, said Carbondale Fire Chief Ulmont Crawshaw.

The pumper will be used in any capacity that a city truck might serve, according to Crawshaw. If a member town in the Jackson, Williamson, Saline or Union counties of the Coal Belt Fire Association needs help in combating a fire, the SIU truck might be considered.

Crawshaw said when city firemen answer an out-of-town call for help, men always remain on duty at the station to take care of the Carbondale home front.

The chief said, "The University, in a way, is adding to the protection already available from the Carbondale staff."

He said the SIU facility would enable better local protection with additional personnel and equipment.

Fourteen firemen, two captains and himself now make up the Carbondale fire protection staff.

The city has 10 pieces of equipment including four pumpers, an aerial truck, two emergency trucks, a tanker and two cars.

The department received 525 calls in 1966, Crawshaw said. This year 520 calls have been received so far.

"Not quite one half of the calls are emergency runs," he said.

The emergency runs include accidents and drownings. Fire runs include property and grass fires.

The number of calls increases by about 100 every year, he said. The approaching windy season will aid fires in getting out of hand.

It is during this windy season that leaf-burning and faulty stoves lead to fire calls, he said. Wind accounts for 50 to 70 per cent of the fire.

"Anybody can put out a fire if he can get to it," he said. "But our job is to cut the fire off and try to keep something else from burning."

During the recent Fire Prevention Week, some 400 school children toured the station facilities.

"We have to sell fire prevention and we do this by going into the schools," said Crawshaw. "If we can get into the schools, the children will take it home."

Park It Where?

By Rick Schwab

"Parking spaces are to be seen but not had," "Where there's a parking spot, there's a no-parking sign," "A rolling car gathers no parking space."

These are the proverbial headaches facing car owners at SIU.

Bob Brown, a parking section official, says the University parking lots can accommodate 4,500 cars at one time. But SIU has about 8,200 legally registered motor vehicles on campus.

At first glance this would indicate an immediate need for additional lots. But Brown points out that there are always parking spaces available on campus since 8,200 cars are never there at the same time.

"People are dismayed when they are unable to find a spot right next to the building they have a class in or are working at," Brown said. "They should remember the $3 they pay for a sticker is only for registration of their car and doesn't promise them a private parking spot."

The parking section is attempting to make parking more convenient. Recently a road was constructed connecting the Arena parking lot with the road running next to the Technology building. A driver no longer has to go down US 51 to get to the Arena lot.

Because of the parking situation, Security Police have little trouble finding violators of the parking rules. What becomes of the money collected from the violators?

"Two funds have been set up by the parking section," Brown said. "One consists of money received for registration of vehicles and the other from money obtained from traffic complaints. The registration fund is used for administrative costs of the motor vehicle section. The traffic complaint fund helps pay civil service salaries."

Was the need for more money behind the raising of prices at the University Center lot? Previously a car could park free for one hour with a dime being charged for extra hours. This year the first hour costs 10 cents with each succeeding hour costing a quarter. The increased prices, it was held, would create parking spaces for visitors.

Brown said, "We have nothing to do with the adjustment of prices at the University Center lot, but I believe money was not the only factor. The lot was constructed mainly for visitors but more and more students were using it to the point visitors found no spot to park."

Although there is a lack of parking, there appears to be an abundance of cars. A breakdown of registration figures shows 2,867 decals have been issued to faculty and staff members, 669 to graduate staff members, 272 to disabled students, 844 to commuter students, 453 to graduate students, 1,108 to married students, 1,332 to students meeting grade point requirements, 259 to students who work, 64 to Carbondale residents, 52 to faculty members with motorcycles and 317 to students with motorcycles.

But unfortunately it's still almost as valuable to own a parking space as an automobile.

Job Projects' Success Cited

Two employment projects formed this summer to help meet demands by Carbondale Negroes for more jobs will be continued by the city despite a recent shortage of operating funds.

Mayor David Keene told the City Council Tuesday night that both the Youth Corps and the Employment and Resources Center were running into money problems but made it clear that the projects would not be left to flounder.

Keene informed the Council that he had elicited a pledge from Washington that federal funds would be provided for the Employment and Resources Center until January 1. Current funds expire Nov. 1.

After that time, Keene said, "we'll keep the center in operation somehow." Presumably, the bulk of the center's future finances will come from federal sources.

Since its formation during the racially tense weeks of August, the Employment and Resources Center has processed 274 job applicants and has found jobs for 132 persons.

A future operating plan for the center, presented to the Council Tuesday night, calls for a board of directors which will determine policies and solve problems for the organization.

The city's other job opportunity program, the Youth Corps, has run through $9,300 of its $10,000 budget and it is estimated that $15,000 additional will be needed to keep the Corps in full operation until the end of the fiscal year next April.

Informed of the Corps' financial situation, the Council assured continuation of the program until January 1, at which time a re-evaluation of the Corps will be made.

Additional funds for the Corps will come from state sales tax revenues.

According to Carbondale street superintendent Harold Hill, since its inception this summer, the Corps has provided jobs for 55 area youths. Experience on the Youth Corps makes the youths "more employable," says Hill, enabling many to move on to better jobs.

Currently, the Corps employs 12 youths who work mainly on cleanup projects around Carbondale.

Do you buy a shirt or a label?

You buy both. The shirt because of what it looks like. And the label because of what it means. A good label means the shirt is styled to last. That it's tapered, pleated and rolled in the right places. Like this King Cotton

Perma-Iron shirt. 100% cotton that won't wrinkle. Labeled "Sanforized." With a softly flared button-down collar, shoulder-to-waist taper and box pleat. You can get it in stripes, solids, checks or plaids. $6.00 for short sleeves, $7.00 for long. But don't buy a sport shirt just for the plaid, color, stripe or check. Get a good sport shirt with a good label. Our sports label is the best. Look for Arrow.

Senate Votes Down Spending Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted Wednesday stop-gap spending authority for federal agencies whose budgets are still tied up in Congress, but all efforts to tie spending cut riders to the resolution were beaten.

The stopgap resolution, passed 59 to 26, was sent to a conference with the House in face of predictions the House would balk at going along with the Senate in merely extending the spending authority to Nov. 15.

The House, in passing the resolution last week, had hung on a directive to President Johnson to shrink spending by $6 billion to $8 billion in his budget for the current fiscal year that began July 1.

Meanwhile, there were other developments on Capitol Hill in the federal financial picture:

—House-Senate conferees agreed on a compromise $4.58 billion bill to finance space activities. But they scrubbed funds earmarked for two research projects - the Voyager long-range spacecraft project and the second stage of the Nerva nuclear rocket. The total is $400 million less than Johnson asked.

—A second-try compromise was worked out to provide $10 million extra for the annual rental subsidy for housing for low-income people. The House had turned down both the $40 million asked by Johnson and approved by the Senate as well as $10 million recommended by its Appropriations Committee.

—Senate-House conferees who agreed on the new rent subsidy compromise also tried a new $312 million figure for the Model Cities program in comparison to the $237 million voted by the House and $537 million voted by the Senate.

The Model Cities and rent supplementals increases would push the independent offices bill to $10.1 billion—some $681 million below the budget request.

The House, in a sudden burst of speed to complete all money measures quickly, cleared by voice vote two more annual appropriation bills: A $2.17 billion measure to finance the State, Justice and Commerce Departments and some minor agencies, and a $4.7 billion measure for the sprawling public works program, mainly those of the Army Corps of Engineers.

SIU Called 'Empire Builder'

By Associated Press

A State Senator has attacked what he called "empire building" in state higher education, citing SIU and the University of Illinois as the offenders. "If I had my way," said Anthony Scariano, D-Park Forest, "both the University of Illinois and Southern Illinois University would be under the jurisdiction of the Illinois Board of Higher Education without any intervening board."

The comment came at a hearing of a special committee of the Board of Higher Education on the function and governing a new four-year institution to be built in the Springfield area, and on where to locate a new senior college in the Chicago area.

The University of Illinois has suggested that it be allowed to administer both new colleges. SIU President Delyte W. Morris has asked that SIU administer the Springfield college.

Other persons appearing before the Board pictured the Springfield college as an institution that could put a strong emphasis on training men and women for government service.

The committee has the task of recommending, sites, functions, and manner of being governed of the two new senior colleges.

George Hoffman, chairman of the Springfield Committee for Higher Education, said the governing body for the Springfield college should have the "largest degree of independence and autonomy."

field college should have the "largest degree of independence and autonomy."

Cost of Protest Was $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The two days of antiwar protests in Washington forced governmental spending of more than $1 million, the Pentagon said Wednesday.

Largest share of the cost was borne by the Defense Department which, according to its figures, spent $641,000. That money went for airlifting troops to protect the Pentagon, National Guard expenditures and operation of trucks and buses, among other things.

The Pentagon placed the overall cost resulting from the demonstrations at $1,078,000, shared by the federal, District of Columbia, state of Virginia and Arlington County, Va., governments.

Civil Rights Bill Passes Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's civil rights bill was approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday by a 7-5 vote after escaping narrowly a series of efforts to alter it.

The administration was able to produce a committee majority with the arrival of Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., from England on a military flight arranged by the White House.

The bill—designed to protect Negroes and civil rights workers from violence and threats in exercising federally guaranteed rights—was sent to the Senate where it faces a possible filibuster if Southern opponents rally enough Republican support.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., sponsor of a substitute bill which the committee shelved 8 to 7 in favor of the administration version, said he will take his fight to the Senate floor.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen supported Ervin's proposal in the committee.

The administration plan would provide criminal penalties for injuring or intimidating a person exercising specifically listed federal rights or because of race, color, religion or natural origin.

These rights include voting, attending public school, serving on a jury, employment, participating in federally aided programs and use of public accommodations and such common carriers as railroads and buses.

The minimum penalty would be $1,000 fine or a year in jail. If bodily harm is done the penalty would be 10 years or $10,000 or in case of death life imprisonment.

On Mideast Resolution

Security Council Compromises

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council, meeting urgently to deal with fresh violence in the Middle East, Wednesday night unanimously condemned violations of the Egyptian-Israeli cease-fire and demanded an end to fighting in the Suez area.

The resolution, offered as a stopgap compromise between competing resolutions put forward by the United States and the Soviet Union, also expressed regret over the casualties and property damage from the recent violations.

The resolution was introduced after lengthy consultations with Ambassador Senjin Tsunooka of Japan, council president for October.

It reaffirms the "necessity of the strict observance of the cease-fire resolutions" adopted by the council last June during the six-day Arab-Israeli war.

It further calls upon the Israelis and the Arab nations to "cease immediately all prohibited military activities in the area and to cooperate fully and promptly" with U.N. peace observers in the area.

Despite heavy pressure,

By Johnson

'Yellow Peril' Denied

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, branding as absurd talk that the United States fears a "Yellow Peril" in Asia, said Wednesday freedom cannot be reserved for white Americans and Europeans.

"We have utterly repudiated the racist nonsense of an earlier era," Johnson said. "Indeed, we have made a commitment in Asia because we do believe that no men, whatever the pigmentation of their skins, should be delivered over to totalitarianism."

"Race has no place in our purpose."

however, the resolution stopped short of authorizing Secretary-General U Thant to name a special representative to seek peaceful solutions to the complex Middle East problems, as many members have proposed, or of any other substantive action that might make a start toward a permanent settlement.

Members said negotiations on these points, long under way, would continue with renewed urgency.

The resolution was worked out in consultations among the 10 nonpermanent members of the 15-nation council. It was offered as an alternative to rival resolutions submitted Tuesday night by two Great Powers.

New Group
Backs Policy
In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new bipartisan citizens committee—with such members as former presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower—threw its prestige Wednesday behind President Johnson's embattled Vietnam policy.

The blue-ribbon group—including men who figured in American diplomatic and military battles in a quarter century of hot and cold wars—expressed concern that the "strident voices of some dissenters" are receiving disproportionate attention here as well as in Hanoi and Peking.

As the new Citizens Committee for Peace With Freedom in Vietnam was unveiled at a news conference—chaired by Democratic former Sen. Paul H. Douglas and General of the Army Omar Bradley—a bipartisan resolution urging a new attempt to end the war was introduced in the Senate.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who opposes escalation of the Vietnam fighting, offered the measure with the support of more than a half of the Senate members.

The resolution would urge the administration to press for action on a Vietnam resolution pending in the United Nations for more than 21 months.

"It's time for the United Nations to fish or cut bait," said Mansfield.

Course Scheduled For Improvement Of Driving Skills

An adult certificate course in driver improvement will be offered at SIU by the Division of Technical and Adult Education beginning Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Sgt. C. Lendall Rockwell of the Illinois State Police will teach the course, which stresses defensive driving.

Classes will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. each Tuesday for four weeks in Room A220 of the Technology Building. There will be a $1 materials fee.

Advance registrations are being accepted at the Technical and Adult Education office, 908 S. Wall, according to SIU Adult Education Coordinator Thomas W. Dardis.

University Center Opens Snack Bar

A new snack bar in the University Center recently went into operation between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Friday. The bar serves coffee and rolls to the overflow of students unable to find room in the heavily populated cafeteria and Oasis Room.

The bar is located on the second floor of the building in the unfinished lounge area between the sectioning center and the director's office. According to Clarence Dougherty, director of the University Center, the bar is operating on a trial basis.

The University Food Service is running the snack bar and hot coffee is percolated on the spot.

SIU Botany Professor to Lecture At Meetings in Germany, England

William Gray, professor of botany at SIU, has been invited to present papers at two international scientific conferences next year.

He will speak at the Seventh International Congress for Mushroom Culture in Hamburg, Germany, next May, and the First International Biodeterioration Symposium at the University of Southampton, England, in September.

Gray is a pioneer in the field of fungal protein synthesis, by which fungus can be used to produce pure protein from such carbohydrate surplus plants as cane and manioc root. His work has attracted worldwide attention as a possible answer to the food-population problem in hard-pressed African, South American and Asian nations.

Gray will be a guest speaker Nov. 1 at a Washington University botany department seminar. He will speak on "Population and Protein."

Botany Talk Set For Wednesday

A professor of the Department of Botany at the University of Tennessee, A.J. Sharp, will present an illustrated lecture on Alaska and its plant life today at 8:15 p.m. in Room 323 of the Life Science Building.

Sharp is a past president of the Botanical Society of America and an international authority on mosses.

Guest Speakers to Examine Policies In Polish, German Foreign Affairs

The European and Russian Studies Committee will present two lectures Friday.

"Recent Trends in Germany's Eastern Policy" will be discussed by Laszlo Gorgey at 4 p.m. in the Davis Auditorium of the Wham Education Building.

Gorgey, a native of Hungary, is an assistant professor of international studies at the University of South Carolina.

Stephan Horak, professor of East European history at Eastern Illinois University, will discuss "Recent Developments in Poland's German Policy" at 7:30 p.m. in Morris Library Auditorium.

Both speakers and Egon K.

Kamarasy, assistant professor of government, will participate in a panel discussion following the evening session.

The committee will host an informal coffee and discussion hour at 11 a.m. Saturday in Morris Library Lounge.

Tulsa to Present Potent Grid Attack

By George Knemeyer

You've heard of the White Tornado.

Now meet the Golden Hurricane from the University of Tulsa.

Unlike other football players who have fancy nicknames but may have trouble living up to them, Tulsa gridders have no trouble living up to theirs.

They stir up a storm in the air wherever they go, as witnessed by five NCAA passing titles in as many years. And Tulsa is on its way to still another title.

The Oklahomans have thrown for 1,443 yards this year in four games for an average of 353 yards per game passing. Tulsa has connected on 106 of 169 passing attempts for a phenomenal .627 percentage. This means an average of 42 passing attempts per game.

But this does not mean that 42 is all they will throw against the Salukis in Saturday's Homecoming game. Many people probably remember the Homecoming massacre of two years ago when Tulsa completely routed the Salukis 55-12. In that game, Tulsa quarterback Bill Anderson tied an NCAA record for passing attempts in one game, 65, and set an NCAA record for most completions in one game, 42.

Anderson passed for an unbelievable 477 yards and four touchdowns. But there will probably be no individual passing records set in the Homecoming game because Tulsa does not have one outstanding quarterback—it has three.

Their names are Greg Barton, Mike Stripling and Glenn Dobbs III, son of the Tulsa coach.

They have combined for 15 of the 17 touchdown passes that Tulsa has thrown. Tulsa has scored a total of 23 touchdowns this season as compared to the Salukis' six.

The most impressive of three Tulsa quarterbacks has been Greg Barton, who has thrown six TD passes and has totaled more than 500 yards passing. He has also completed more than 60 per cent of his passes.

Next on the list is Stripling who has completed 58 per cent of his passes, good for more than 350 yards and seven touchdowns.

Dobbs has thrown for only two touchdowns but has hit on 67 per cent of his passes for about 300 yards through the air.

But when you talk about good quarterbacks, you have to talk about the men who are on the receiving end of the passes; once again, the Golden Hurricane has a couple of good ones.

Rich Eber, Hurricane flanker, has to rank as one of the best in the country. He broke the record for most receptions in one game when he caught 20 against Idaho State. The record had been set by Howard Twilley of—where else—Tulsa in 1965.

The six-foot tall flanker has scored eight touchdowns among his 40-plus receptions, good for 600 yards. The eight touchdowns put him in the thick of the nation's scoring race among individuals with 56 points this season.

The other outstanding receiver is Harry Wood who has scored five touchdowns and caught over 30 passes. He has also gained more than 500 yards in pass receptions.

Hunting Licenses

May Be Bought

By Non-residents

SPRINGFIELD—A five-day non-resident hunting license is now available to hunters from nine southern states, according to the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Sportsmen from Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas who wish to hunt in Illinois for not over five days may do so upon the purchase of a $10 non-resident license. These states extend the same courtesy to Illinois hunters.

A yearly non-resident license is needed by hunters from states other than these nine. A non-resident hunter is required to pay the same amount for a yearly license to hunt in Illinois as an Illinois resident would be charged in the non-resident's home state, except that the minimum is $15. An issuing fee of 50 cents is charged by the clerk who writes the license.

The passing game is not the only offense that Tulsa has. The rushing attack is not to be overlooked.

Tulsa averages 134 yards per game on the ground, and much of this total belongs to fullback Ephraim (Cee) Ellison, who has picked up more

Frosh Football Set for Friday

The Saluki freshman football team, idle since Oct. 9, will journey to Memphis, Tenn., to face Memphis State University Friday.

The Saluki frosh, who have lost several key players to the injury-riddled varsity, are aiming for their second victory in three starts. Southern has split two games with Southeast Missouri State College.

Freshman Coach Jim LaRue indicated that Tom Wisz, from Tucson, Ariz., and Frank Gilcrest, from Franklin, Ind., will share the quarterback assignment.

Ottawa's Jeff Hale, the Salukis' top rusher, is a questionable starter due to a minor thigh injury. Tim Higham, 190-pound fullback from Creve Coeur, may replace Hale.

Freshman regulars who may miss the game because of varsity action include Neil Storm, Bob Moritz, Huey Lee, Bob Hultz, Ted Ewert, Tim Kniest, Rick Pittman and Craig Wilhelm.

than 200 yards on the ground in the first four games. He has a 4.4 yard per carry average and has scored one touchdown.

Tulsa's defense is also one of the best in the country, as it has given up only 145.2 yards per game, and an average 4.5 points.

Lumpe Gives Up Pro Ball Career

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Jerry Lumpe, 34, who has spent just half his life in professional baseball, announced he was retiring Tuesday from the sport.

The Detroit infielder will become assistant vice president of the Empire Bank here. For the four past winters he has been a special representative of the bank.

Lumpe broke into the majors in 1956 with the New York Yankees. He later played with the Kansas City Athletics and the Detroit Tigers. Lumpe, who played at shortstop, and second and third bases, had his best batting season in 1962 when he batted .301 with the A's.

Purdue QB Leads in Offense

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike Phipps, Purdue's precocious sophomore quarterback, has taken over first place in total offense among the nation's major college football teams. New leaders also moved up in passing—Jimmy Poole of Davidson—and in punting—Bob Coble of Kansas State—but O.J. Simpson, Southern California's great runner, increased his margin in rushing yardage.

Intramural Wrestling Tournament Scheduled

The intramural wrestling tournament will begin on Nov. 14, and continue through Nov. 16 if necessary. Trophies will be awarded to the winners of each of eight different weight divisions. A team trophy will be awarded to the team scoring the most points. Wrestling mats in the Arena will be available to work out on from 8 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. on Nov. 6-9 and Nov. 13. Students currently working out with the wrestling team are ineligible to participate. Rules governing the tournament may be obtained by calling the Intramural Office.

Lenzi Blasts Student Senate's Lack of Concern

Student Body President Ray Lenzi last night sternly warned members of the Student Senate that immediate concern was needed to improve decaying conditions on the SIU Carbondale campus.

"There hasn't been enough concern or activity shown by members of this senate concerning students' affairs," Lenzi said. "We have a big challenge to meet and I think it about time we started facing up to it."

"This is a year of confrontation, the year of action," he continued, "a time when we face the decaying conditions and start doing something to change them.

"We need to start now... any delay would find us sitting around at the end of the year wondering why we were unable to bring about any changes.

Mautino to Be Link Between SIU, City

Student Body President Ray Lenzi has announced that Tony Mautino, a senior from Spring Valley, Ill., will represent the student government as city relations commissioner.

"We're not doing enough thinking about where we're going. As a Student Senate, the members on it are not thinking about what this campus is doing.

"If we can't solve the problems of high traffic in a small community like Carbondale, how are we going to deal with the problems of urban plight in the future?"

"If we can't create a better situation than some professor standing in a classroom of 350 kids, in some cases talking about something that doesn't even concern them, then why do we have a Senate?"

"I'm calling on everyone in the Senate to be concerned about this student body and about this University," he added. "We must... if we don't, the people of this campus and this country are going to suffer."

Gymnastics Team Evaluated

By Carl Courtner

In recent years, SIU's gymnastic teams have slipped into a rather steady pattern of overwhelming victories.

But nary a member or a coach of either the men or the women's teams is anything but hesitant in forecasting the results of the upcoming season. Victory is anything but certain as all parties concerned would readily testify.

Wednesday afternoon found the men's team coaches beginning an evaluation of the Saluki squad's strengths and weaknesses. By late afternoon, the performances of most of the prospective varsity team members in the long horse vaulting and side horse events had been scored by head coach Bill Meade and his assistant Rick Tucker, standout from the last three of Meade's squads.

Senior Paul Mayer executed a just under par repeat of his championship 9.-575 performance in last season's NCAA long horse vaulting finals. He turned in a promising 9.3 showing. Following Mayer were Sophomore Larry Ciolkosz (9.0) and senior Alan Alexander (8.9). Close behind was junior Pete Hemmerling (8.7), junior Skip Ray (8.6), junior Yuke Usuki (8.4), junior Stu Smith (8.2) and senior Fred Dennis (8.0).

Senior Dale Hardt, who with Mayer and Alexander copped the national vaulting team championship last spring, had not turned in a performance by late afternoon.

The side horse proved a thorn in the side last year for the Saluki squad when no team member placed in the championships. Tucker turned in a disappointing 8.8 performance for the highest score of the team. Keith McCannless of Iowa took top honors with a 9.55 score.

The thorn evidently remains. The highest score

Wednesday was 8.4, turned in by both team veteran Dennis and freshman Frank Benesh.

Later in the day the coaches were to examine the prospective squad's individual efforts in the trampoline and parallel bar events.

Dear Donna,

I took this space to wish you a HAPPY BIRTHDAY. I know of no gift I could buy that would mean as much as this will to you. All the money in the world can't buy what I have to give you or what I'll always give you. I know that you can't give as much of it to me, but I only ask for a small portion in return.

ALL MY LOVE,

Chuck
